CLUB NEWSFLASH

- There is no Sidelights published in January. I get to have a month off ...wuh ho...!
- There will not be a General Meeting in January. Many members are away or have family commitments over the holiday season and attendance numbers are minimal for this GM. Committee members also get to have one less commitment for this month. A well earned break for those members that go above and beyond to commit their time to the running of your club.
- A reminder for those members that wish to have lunch after the monthly General Meetings – To help with an earlier distribution of meals We would like all those members that are staying for lunch to please order their meals before we start the meeting at 12 noon. The meals will then be ready at approximately 1.15pm. Please let them know your name and state that you are with MPHVC, as we will not be able to give them our table numbers as we place our order.
- Don't forget to bring unwanted books for the "Library exchange/giveaway Table" at the monthly GM. This has been very popular with members and we do require contributions for it to continue successfully.
- We received a lovely "Thank You" email from Village Baxter thanking all members that participated in the recent car display.

We received this email re death of a previous club member.

VALE MARGARET CLARENCE.

CHERRY FARM PICNIC RUN

Our Sunday run in September was to visit Tess' Cherry Farm at Red Hill. The cherry blossom trees were in full bloom but still too early for us to take our buckets for the cherries! Some of us met at Baxter Tavern, and were surprised to find another club also parked ready for their run for the day. Well that was an added bonus to the day as we all got to mingle and admire cars we have not seen before. And a very nice array of cars they were! I will not attempt to name them, but they certainly were a credit to their owners!

After a late start we set off and arrived at the farm to be greeted by about 12 other members that had chosen to drive directly there. It was a perfect warm sunny day and we all enjoyed our day strolling around Tess' impressive gardens. Just before our picnic lunch, Chris had organized a guest speaker for the day. A man called Brendan, who is Vice President of the Vietnam Veterans group. Brendan recounted his early years growing up and his induction into the army and subsequent posting to Vietnam. Further tales of his later life working as an undertaker were certainly interesting. Tess was kind enough to organize raffle prizes and many members went home with goody bags.

CAR CARE CORNER

By Bernie Valentini — (VACC Certified SMM)

Hi all Members, Friends & Fellow car enthusiasts!
It's time to talk about

Some important basics regardless of the age of your vehicle.

TYRES : Vigilance is paramount if trouble is to be avoided. Pressures must be checked at least every time you fill the tank when it gets to no lower than QUARTER FULL. If you can't get down on knees to closely inspect tread, at least run you hand slowly and carefully around the tread to check for anything that shouldn't be there (nails glass stones screws bolts). Don't laugh, we copped a 6 x 1/2 inch bolt in our Prado recently on a trip to Mildura! Luckily it stayed in there till we got to a tyre service some 50 kms away!
(Tradies- : please ensure no loose bits [pink or not]! floating about in your tray that find their way out onto the road causing no end of grief and expense for your colleagues and the rest of us)

Anytime you can, even cursory looks at Tyre Side-walls can be of great benefit. Cracks or bulges can develop ANYTIME even on new tyres! Even the inside walls aren't immune from these faults occurring!

"Feel" for OUT OF ROUNDNESS too when caressing your Treads. Keep an eye on tread DEPTH. SEE if treads display signs of UNEVEN WEAR. Whenever in the slightest doubt, don't ignore it! Get to your Mechanic or Tyre Service and have your doubts confirmed or put to rest. To ignore is to tempt fate. "Remember Murphys Law"

If you see "Feathering" or any irregular wear pattern of the tread, this is warning you of FAULTY ALIGNMENT which may in turn be caused by worn out or loose components such as Ball Joints, Control Arm Bushes, Tie Rod Ends, Rack Ends, Pitman or Idler Arms, etc.all RWC itemsand potentially a fatal disaster waiting to happen.

Happy motoring.... Bernie Valentini (Certified VACC SMM & VicRoads Vehicle Examiner)

WHAT WAS A POPULAR CAR THE YEAR YOU WERE BORN

1967: Chevrolet

Camaro

Chevrolet finally answered Ford in 1967 when it launched the Camaro. The SS featured non-functional air inlets on the hood, special striping, and SS badging on the grille, front fenders, gas cap, and horn button. It was possible to order both the SS and RS options, making it a RS/SS. In 1967, a Camaro RS/SS convertible with a 396 engine paced the Indianapolis 500.

The Z/28 option code was introduced in December 1966 for the 1967 model year. It was the brainchild of Vince Piggins, who conceived offering "virtually race-ready" Camaros for sale from any Chevrolet dealer. This option package was not mentioned in any sales literature, so it was unknown to most buyers. The Z/28 option featured a high-output small-block 302 cu in (4.9 L) V8 that had been designed for racing in the 5 litre (305 cu in) class in the then very popular Trans-Am racing series. In 1969, it was intended as a head-to-head competitor for the Ford Boss 302 Mustang. It had a 3 in (76.2 mm) stroke crankshaft with 4 inch (101.6 mm) bore, an aluminum intake manifold, and a 4-barrel vacuum secondary 780 cfm Holley carburetor.

Advertised power of the 302 was listed at 290 hp (216 kW) at 5300 rpm - an under-rated figure. Chevrolet wanted to keep the horsepower rating at less than 1 hp per cubic inch, for insurance premium calculations and for classification in racing.

The Z/28 also came with upgraded suspension, front disc power brakes, and a 4-speed Muncie close-ratio manual transmission. Posi-traction was available as an option. The Z/28 included wide racing stripes on the hood and trunk lid (that could be deleted at no charge), a '302' front fender emblems on the 1967 and early 1968 cars, and 'Z/28' emblems in late 1968 and 1969. It was also possible to combine the Z/28 package with the RS package.

A total of 602 Z/28s equipped Camaros were sold in 1967, along with approximately 100 Indianapolis Pace Car replicas. The 1967 and 1968 Z/28s did not have the cowl induction hood, optional on the 1969 Z/28s.

The 1967 Z28 received air from an open-element air cleaner or from an optional cowl plenum duct attached to the side of the air cleaner that ran to the firewall and got air from the cowl vents. 15-inch rally wheels were included with Z/28s while all other 1967-9 Camaros had 14-inch wheels.

The origin of the Z/28 nameplate came from the RPO codes - RPO Z28 was the code for the Special Performance Package. RPO Z27 was for the Super Sport package.

The Chevy could be optioned with engines as large as the massive 396 cid V8 with 375 hp. But it was the handling of the Z28, that went on to make history. The freely-revving 290 hp V8 and stiff suspension of the Z28 made the Camaro a backcountry hustler and a very competitive race machine. The best thing of all about the announcement of a new rival sports car was this quote from a Chevrolet sales executives claiming a "Camaro" was, "a small, vicious animal that eats Mustangs."

The body style for the 1967 Camaro was designed by the same team that designed the new 1965 edition of the Corvair. The Camaro shared the subframe / semi-unibody design with the 1968 Chevy II Nova. Almost 80 factory-installed and 40 dealer options, including three main trim packages, were available: the RS, the SS, and the Z/28.

Hope you enjoy this journey of the most popular cars produced from 1918 to 2000. Follow the progress of the automobile in its evolution throughout upcoming editions of Sidelights. (Info obtained from Wikipedia).
